Post Brexit Preston: The Caravan Gallery Preston Pride of Place Project: Imagination & Inquiry Seminar and Book Launch

The Harris Museum, Art Gallery & Library is hosting a unique event exploring Preston's city and its people now and in the future on Wednesday 22nd November from 5.30 – 7.30pm. Tickets are free but must be booked in advance at www.harrismuseum.eventbrite.co.uk or at the Museum shop.

The University of Central Lancashire (UCLan) will welcome people to a seminar as part of its Imagination & Inquiry series, on how artists can contribute to a sense of place and identity and what post-Brexit Preston will look like. The seminar will take place in the Harris' current Streets of Change exhibition which explores how the city has changed since the time of Victorian artist Edwin Beattie.

On the same evening The Caravan Gallery will launch their colourful and entertaining new book on the Preston Pride of Place Project, when they occupied an empty shop in Preston city centre and used their photographs to encourage visitors to add their thoughts, opinions and observations. The result was a refreshingly honest and thought-provoking exhibition about Preston in all its multifaceted glory. Stories, memories and experiences are recorded in the new book which is available on the night at the special price of £6.00.

There will also be the opportunity to take part in a discussion on art and place with contributions from The Caravan Gallery, the In Situ art collective, and Community Gateway.

For people unable to attend the event in the evening there is a chance to meet Jan Williams and Chris Teasdale from The Caravan Gallery in the gallery from 3.30pm.

Notes for the Editor

Admission: Free. Tickets must be pre-booked and are available from Harris Eventbrite. For any enquiries contact the Museum Shop.

The A5 book has 120 pages and is in full colour. RRP price is £7.50 with a special launch day price of £6.00.

The Preston Pride of Place Project

The Preston Pride of Place Project was an alternative visitor information centre where people could share stories images, words and opinions about the city and contribute to an ever growing exhibition about Preston. The Caravan Gallery is collaboration between artists and photographers Jan Williams and Chris Teasdale to document the reality and surreality of the way we live today.
